Indianapolis Parks Foundation adds environmental attorney, plus utility and engineering professionals to board of trustees

The Indianapolis Parks Foundation has named three new members to its board of trustees:

- Leah Silverthorn, Hunsucker Goodstein & Nelson PC
- Victoria Schneider Temple, The Schneider Corporation (executive board member)
- William A. Tracy, Citizens Energy Group (executive board member)

Indianapolis Parks Foundation board members provide guidance, counsel and governance to the IPF staff in its efforts to support Indy Parks and Recreation.

New Member Bios

Leah Silverthorn is an environmental attorney with Hunsucker Goodstein & Nelson PC. Her practice focuses on the clean-up and redevelopment of contaminated properties for beneficial use. Prior to her current role, Silverthorn was counsel for the Indiana Department of Environmental Management and litigation attorney representing not-for-profit organizations on environmental issues.

Victoria Schneider Temple is board chair and chief executive officer of The Schneider Corporation, a firm providing creative approaches to land development. A third-generation owner of Schneider Corporation, Temple provides consultative services and solutions that support public and private clients in planning, engineering and managing growth within their communities.

William A. Tracy is senior vice president of operations for Citizens Energy Group. With more than 40 years of experience in utilities, he serves on several boards focused on neighborhood development and services. At Citizens Energy Group, Tracy is responsible for the utility's gas, steam and chilled water operations, as well as engineering, strategic growth initiatives and marketing.

The Indianapolis Parks Foundation seeks financial support from community partners such as service organizations, corporations and individuals to help purchase land, develop new parks, maintain existing parks, upgrade park facilities and provide support to programs benefiting children, families and seniors throughout Marion County. For more information about the Indianapolis Parks Foundation, visit www.IndyParksFoundation.org or call (317) 860-3250.
